

Diving and Mountain Climbing ~ (Gunung Batur 1717 m (12 day round trip))

Is intended for fairly experienced divers as some spots, such as Gili Tepekong, Gili Mimpang and Gili Biaha, Nusa Penida and Lembongan, are quite demandig owing to the fact that they are influenced by the currents of the Lombok Strait. This explains the extraordinary multitude of fishes and other marine life – shark, seasonal sunfish, turtle, right down to the small nudibranch. Macro photographers find their Eldorado at Scuba Seraya, adventure divers theirs at the Gilis or Penida and Lembongan, wreck freaks theirs at the Liberty. Our well-trained dive masters have been diving those sites for over ten years and are thus acquainted with their peculiarities.

Climbing Mount Batur, 1717m, gives you an idea of the forces that were responsible for various outbreaks, the last in 2000, when you walk across lava fields, strewn with huge boulders.

The sunrise over lake Batur is breathtakingly beautiful, watch the monkeys frolicing and enjoy the grandeur of Bali's volcanic heritage. After the climb relax in the hot springs of Toyabungkah.
